The Sanctuary of Life

Why does salvation history hinge on a family fleeing for their lives? In the Gospel, the Holy Family aren't merely refugees; they are revealed as the new Israel. Jesus goes down into Egypt to perfect the history of His people, led by a new Joseph, the dreamer who saves his family from death.

This flight reveals the family's true role. The Holy Family was the sanctuary where the Son of God was protected from a hostile world. Today, the Christian family is called to be that same sanctuary. In a culture often opposed to the Gospel, parents must be vigilant guardians, protecting the divine life of grace within their homes.

How do we build this fortress? Sirach reminds us that honoring our parents is a spiritual act that atones for sins. St Paul provides the blueprints for the interior life of this household, telling us to "put on" compassion and patience. He calls love the "bond of perfection"—the structural integrity that holds the domestic church together.

When we forgive as the Lord has forgiven us, we make our homes outposts of the Kingdom. By guarding the life of Christ in the ordinary struggles of our daily routine, we prepare to dwell forever in the house of our Father.

God is With Us

It's easy at times to put God in the 'God box' - he's 'in heaven', 'far away', 'distant and remote' 'someone to 'be adored'. However, this is not what we celebrate at Christmas (or Easter)

Today's communion antiphon proclaims 'Our God has appeared on the earth, and lived among us'. Whilst our Christmas masses focused on Jesus as the baby in the manger, today's gospel gives us a much darker and terrifying scene. Joseph and Mary, with the infant Jesus, are fleeing for their very lives, escaping persecution and probably death in Bethlehem. Even at the beginning of his life, Jesus - our Lord and God - experiences rejection, hatred and threats of violence.

However, we also see something else. God the Father's continual protection. Joseph is warned in a dream to flee, he is warned in another dream to return home and then again to settle in Nazareth. Jesus, 'God with us', experiences all that his family goes through at this time, he must have known the fear and dread on his parents' faces, the arduous journey to Egypt and back and the struggle of settling back into village life in Nazareth.

As we reflect on the Christmas stories, let us take heart that our God is not distant and remote. In and through Jesus God knows all of our pain, suffering, struggles and difficulties. He knows our joys, hopes and dreams. Let us invite him to truly 'be with us' every step of our lives, each and every day.

Wishing you all many blessings this Christmas
Fr Darren McDowell

The Holy Family – Jubilee Year of Hope

As we celebrate the Feast of the Holy Family during this Jubilee Year of Hope, we look to Jesus, Mary, and Joseph as pilgrims of hope who trusted God even in uncertainty. Their home in Nazareth reminds us that hope is born and nurtured in families through love, patience, forgiveness, and prayer. We pray that every family in our parish may be renewed in hope and strengthened by God's mercy.

Jokes Corner

My wife accompanied me this morning when I went to the barbers for a haircut. Reading a magazine in the reception area, she found an interesting article and asked if she could take the magazine next door to make a photocopy.

"Leave some ID, a driver's license or a credit card," the hairdresser said.

"But my hubby is here getting a haircut," she explained.

"Yes, I know", he replied. "But I need something that you'll come back for."
