Affair of the Heart

Jesus tells us in the Gospel this week that He has come not to abolish but to “fulfill” the Law of Moses and the teachings of the prophets.

His Gospel reveals the deeper meaning and purpose of the Ten Commandments and the moral Law of the Old Testament. But His Gospel also transcends the Law. He demands a morality far greater than that accomplished by the most pious of Jews, the scribes and Pharisees.

Outward observance of the Law is not enough. It is not enough that we do not murder, commit adultery, divorce, or lie.

The law of the New Covenant is a law that God writes on the heart. The heart is the seat of our motivations, the place from which our words and actions proceed.

Jesus this week calls us to train our hearts, to master our passions and emotions. And Jesus demands the full obedience of our hearts.

He calls us to love God with all our hearts and to do His will from the heart.

God never demands more than what we are capable of doing. That is the message of this week's First Reading. It is up to us to choose life over death, to choose the waters of eternal life over the fires of ungodliness and sin.

By His life, death, and Resurrection, Jesus has shown us that it is possible to keep His commandments. In Baptism, He has given us His Spirit, that His Law might be fulfilled in us.

The wisdom of the Gospel surpasses all the wisdom of this age that is passing away, St Paul tells us in the Epistle. The revelation of this wisdom fulfills God's plan from before all ages. Let us trust in this wisdom and live by His kingdom law.

As we do in this week's Psalm, let us pray that we grow in being better able to live His Gospel and to seek the Father with all our heart.

*In the spirit of reconciliation we acknowledge the Dharawal people as traditional custodians of this land.
We pay our respect to all Elders, past and present, and extend that respect to all First Nations peoples today.*

From Rules to Relationships

In today's Gospel Jesus reminds us that faith is more than simply following rules. He deepens the commandments by pointing to the heart. It is not enough to avoid hurting others outwardly—we must also let go of anger within. Not enough to remain faithful in action—we must be faithful in intention. Not enough to speak truth occasionally—our “yes” should always mean yes.

Jesus invites us to live from the inside out. The Christian life is not minimal obedience but inner conversion. God desires changed hearts, not just correct behaviour.

When we forgive, speak honestly, and seek reconciliation, the law is fulfilled in love.

Our families, workplaces and parish communities suffer more from hardened hearts than broken rules. The Gospel invites us to repair relationships early—before distance grows. A conversation, a humble apology, a truthful word can heal more than we imagine.

This week, pause before reacting. Choose patience over irritation, honesty over convenience, and peace over pride. Holiness often begins in small decisions—and grows quietly in everyday relationships.

The Speed Limit

A police officer pulls over a priest for speeding. The officer says, “Father, I clocked you doing 93 in a 70 zone.” The priest replies, “But officer, I was just trying to get to the church before the hymn started! God moves in mysterious ways, you know.” The officer writes the ticket and hands it to him, saying, “Well Father, today God moved in a mysterious way; but you moved in a Toyota, so that will be $592 and 4 demerit points.”
